Prince Bismarck is sixty-eight years of age. We know hundred Americans better men than Bismarck who are sixty-eight, and it is not telegraphed over the country.

President Chester A. Arthur, Secretary of the Navy William E. Chandler, and the President's private secretary passed through this city Thursday night on their way to Floridy. They arrived here at 10.55 p. m., and only remained at the depot long enough to change trucks under their palace car. We are informed that the party seemed to enjoy themselves exceedingly, and will remain in Florida for about two weeks. There would have been a large party at the depot to welcome the distinguished travelers, but the intimations in the papers that the Prident really desired to make a quiet trip for rest, and did not desire any demonstrations, prevented our people from going to the depot.

Terrible Boiler Explosion—Two Men Killed and Several Persons Wounded.

NEW BERNE, N. C., April 6.—A boiler attached to an engine of seventy-five horse-power exploded in the factory of Geo. Bishop, at this place last evening. Engineer Abram Brown, and fireman Frank Emnett were killed. The house of Jacob Wood, one hundred yards distant, was destroyed, and Mrs. Wood was, it is believed, fatally injured. Two employes in the factory, named Duncan and Staub, were hurt by flying bricks. Half of the factory was demolished and all the houses in the vicinity were more or less damaged

At the last term of the superior court of Stanly county, a true bill was found against Dr. R. A. Anderson, for the murder of young Charlie Cox. The prisoner who was at large immediately surrended himself, sued out a writ of habeas corpus before Judge Shipp and was released on a bail of $10,000.

Let justice be done. The superior court of Halifax decided last week that J. H. Harman was entitled to the office of Register of Deeds. At the last election of Halifax Mr. Harman was elected, and because he had been holding an office in Washington the county commissioners declared that he was not a citizen of the state, therefore they refused to qualify him. We congratulate Mr. H. on at last getting justice.

John Dorsey concluded his direct testimony in the Star Route trial with the broad denial of ever having paid any money to any officer of the government.

MY YEARS.

BY J. C. LONG, D. D.

Some were like rare and costly pearls
That, dropped into the sea,
Sank slowly many fathoms down,
And come no more to me.

And some were like light-footed winds,
That have no thought or care,
And, dancing on, no tracklets leave
Upon the yielding air.

And some were like the golden grain—
Ah, would that they were more!—
That, fallen into mellow ground,
Rise fairer than before.

The traceless winds and scattered pearls
Remembered oft with tears,
And here and there a fruitful grain—
Such are my vanished years.—SEL.

Queen Victoria is not improving; there is evidently great danger, and and her physician see it. We should not be surprised to hear of her death at any moment.

The new Democratic mayor of Cincinnati tried, the morning after the election, to shoot a Democratic friend. Both were drunk. Such is Democracy out west, we suppose; won't the Star tell something of the demoralization of Democrats north.

The Mocking, and other birds, that our woods abound so plentifully of, have commenced singing to the great delight of the ladies and little ones.

New Saw and Planing Mill.

Mr. J. W. Taylor's new steam saw and planing mill, erected upon the site of the one burned on the right, of the 26th of December last, commenced on Monday and is now in full blast. The mill has been enlarged and equipped with machinery of the latest pattern.

Locked Up.

Obediah Jenkins, a poor, unfortunate fellow, and an old offender of the law, was escorted to the station house by officers Gafford, Howland and Hays, yesterday afternoon. Same old charge—drunk. We sympathize with him; but don't think, from the number of policeman who had charge of him, Mayor Hall will have much mercy.

Burglary.

A dwelling on Fourth street, between Brunswick and Bladen, was burglariously entered last Thursday night, and a room occupied by two young men raided. The thief only took articles from one of the above young men, leaving the other to go scot free. The articles stolen were a valuable watch and about $4 00 in money.

Assignment.

Messrs. J. H. McGarity & Co., made an assignment on last Thursday, to Mr. G. W. Linder, of their stock of groceries, &c. No preferred creditors.

Col. C. S. Grafflin.

The above mentioned gentleman has just returned from a trip to Florida. He seems impressed with its desirability as a sojourning place in winter. He gives an interesting account of the scenes on the St. John's river, of the numerous boats, many of them floating palaces, which ply its waters principally between Palatka and Jacksonville.

A fire occurred early yesterday morning which destroyed two frame dwellings on Fifth between Brunswick and Bladen streets, one of which was owned by a Mr. Silvey who is employed at Mr. Taylor's mill. Both houses were unoccupied, and we understand the one owned by Mr. Silvey caught from the one adjoining. Cause of fire unknown, and we were unable to learn if there was any insurance.

Assault with a Deadly Weapon.

Mary Jones, had a hearing before Justice McQuigg, on the charge of assault and battery, against Willie Drake; a shoemaker, also on the charge of carrying concealed weapons in the shape of a razor. Required to give bond in the sum of $100, for her appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court, in default of which she went to jail.

"A Word to the Wise is Sufficient."

Ye gentlemen of the police force, privates, sergeants, and captain, who are in the habit of taking stimulants or snoozing on duty had better beware. We understand there are several on the force of that stripe, unless they have reformed recently, and sleep more while off duty. Our friend, Col. Hall, the mayor, says, for the first offence, they will be discharged.

The Mineral Spring.

Superintendent Haar, of the Wilmington and Wrightsville turnpike informs the public that the Mineral Spring, upon that road, will be put in order, and the buckets and chain, for the convenience of passers, be restored later in the season. While one of the buckets was undergoing repair some rascal stole the chain.

The Wilmington, Wrightsville and Onslow railroad is making rapid progress. E. F. Martin, General Superintendent, informs us about a dozen hands are at work grading the street in the southeastern section of the city. Mr. E. E. Green, at a meeting of the directors, held March 26th, was elected Treasurer, and having qualified is now ready to receive the money from subscribers to the capital stock. The Treasurer may be found at the office of General Superintendent.

Larceny.

A colored boy by the name of Robt. McDuffy was arrested Friday, at the instance of one Jane Macks, on the charge of stealing two pots. He had been hanging around her house, and when she went to use the utensils found them missing. They were found in a junk shop, the proprietor of which said that he had bought them of the boy. McDuffy was required to give bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance at the next term of the criminal court in default of which he was committed to the tender mercies of the jailor.

BLACKMAN'S MILLS, April 5, '83.

MR. EDITOR:—Please put this the death of Mr. Henry Dudley. He died the 23d of March last, very sudden. He did not live five minutes after he was taken. Mr. Dudley was an affectionate husband, dutiful parent and a useful and upright citizen and leaves a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn their irreparable loss.

H. B. DUDLEY.

Will you help us; our house of worship, the First Baptist Church, on the corner of Fifth and Campbell street, is in great need of repairs, and we are not able to raise the above named amount of money ourselves, therefore, we come to the citizens of Wilmington and community at-large. Will you aid us? Come to our relief and we will show our sincere appreciation of your free will offering by publishing the amount you give in the Wilmington papers of this city. He that hath pity upon the poor, lendeth to the Lord, and that which he hath given, will he pay him again. He that giveth unto the poor, shall not lack. Our Pastor, Rev. A. M. Baseball.

The "Alerts" and "Unus," two base ball nines composed of young men of this city, played a match game at the Athletic Grounds Thursday last which was declared to be the best and most hotly contested ever played here. Nine innings were played, the time consumed being one hour and thirty minutes, and at the close the score 3 to 2, the "Alerts" being pronounced the victors.

We understand that the "Unus," the defeated nine, propose to challenge the "Alerts," the victors in Thursday's contest, to another trial of skill on the same grounds, the match to come off sometime during the coming week. Due notice will be given of the day and hour, so that all who may desire to witness this exciting game by good players may have an opportunity.

GENTLEMEN—I desire to thank you for the honor conferred on me in electing me as City Clerk and Treasurer, which office I have filled for nearly six years; and also, for the complimentary manner in which said election was made.

Since my election, however, I have made business engagements which would prevent me from giving the duties of the office that close attention which is required, and therefore I beg to tender you my resignation.

Very respectfully,

THE WILMINGTON POST.

W. P. CANADAY, Proprietor.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, APRIL 1, 1883.

Hon. M. W. Ransom met President Arthur at Weldon, and Senator Vance at Goldsboro, N. C; this was as it should have been.

The great confederate General G. T. Beauregard, invented the endless cable system and used it in New Orleans in 1870, afterwards selling the patent to a Chicago company for a very handsome fortune.

Ex-Congressman Hubbs has become a respectable man at last; he has gone to farming. They say he has a model farm near Newbern, and is making it a very profitable one. We congratulate Hubbs on his good taste as well as judgment, in selecting farming for the immediate future,

The case of T. Kring, was acted upon by the United States Supreme Court Thursday last, is a remarkable one. Kring is probably the only man that has ever been tried seven times for the same murder, three times sentenced, and after all escaping through the forms of the law.

ELECTION IN RHODE ISLAND

So the new Democratic convert was badly beaten in the state of Rhode Island. The Democratic papers only whisper it, they are ashamed of the alliance, but never-the-less the people will continue to lay them out. Sprague was beaten by 500 majority by Barn, Republican. So let rest the dead.

A TUB TO THE WHALE.

Hector C. Bailey, colored, of Lillington township, Harnett county, was promised by the Democrats that they would go on his bond for constable if he would use his influence for the regular Democratic nominees in the last election. Hector did it. But when the time came to give the bond, oh! where were the friends of his sunshiny hours? He now has the empty honors of an appointment as magistrate. "Verily they shall have their reward."

OUR TRIP TO SAVANNAH.

The editor had the pleasure of visiting Savannah last week, and was very much struck with the many improvements going on in the country between here and that city.

We stopped at the Schreven House in Savannah, and while there met a large number of friends, who made our stay exceedingly pleasant. Hon. E. Hubbe, special agent of the treasury department, has his headquarters at Savannah, and we fortunately caught him in his office. Notwithstanding the fact that he was head over heels in work, he gave us more of his time than we deserved, but the sacrifice on his part added very materially to our pleasure. Col. Wade, late collector of that internal revenue district, who is now chief deputy marshal, we met also, and many others, all of whom did their best to make our visit a delightful one.

Savannah has many beautiful streets, and its main park is the handsomest we ever saw—not as large as it should be, but that is made up in its beauty. We have seen the parks at New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore; Washington, Cincinnati, Chicago, Charleston and many others, but Savannah can beat them all. The parks, the streets and all public places are well attended to. Unless Charleston picks up very rapidly Savannah will, in a few years, be so far ahead of her that it will be impossible for Charleston ever to get up, either in a business point of view, or beauty; and as for Wilmington, we had just as well hang up, in a few more years Smithville will be a paradise to it. Many of our very best and most enterprising citizens have gone to Savannah for the purpose of rising with the rest of the world, all of them speak exceedingly encouraging about the future of their adopted city.

The New York Herald has been one of the papers of the country that has been fighting the river and harbor appropriations for the past ten years, and that paper did more to defeat the last appropriation bill than any other ten papers in the United States, but it has finally discovered that the shoe pinches near home. Tire Hell Gate appropriation failed with the balance, the work has to cease and, consequently, the danger to what has already been done will be very great. But as the Herald and its friends have made their bed they must abide by its condition. The fact is, New York people and papers have never seemed to find out that there are other parts of this country that have claims on the government as well as New York. They believe that the city of New York has a right to demand what it wants and should have it, but after that is accomplished and the rest of the nation should go without. They will discover some of these days that New York is dependent on the whole country for its support, and the people of that city cannot live unless the balance of the nation lives. The big dailies forget that it is the money of the outsiders which pays the handsome profits of the owners.

The Connecticut Legislature in both branches has passed a bill requiring all railroads in the state to make use of standard state time in their train schedules and advertisements.

"WHAT IS SAUCE FOR THE GOOSE SHOULD BE FOR THE GANDER."

The Democratic papers of the south generally, and our own little Star in particular, are always harping about political election trials. The Democrats of South Carolina can over ride 40,000 Republican majority with impunity, and it is all right and proper, in fact the Star commends them for doing it, but if the Republicans should have any of the guilty rascals arrested for their violations of law, the Star is very much outraged. The Democrats can change the Republican city of Wilmington, and the honest Kingsbury thinks it all right, and the associated press agent sends it off as a grand Democratic victory, and the solicitor of this district can have a few poor negroes arrested, charged with violating the election laws, and the Star stands off and commends that also. But we ask the Star to content its soul, and in a few weeks, when the United States officials commence, on their side, having men arrested for violating the law, then we hope to see Kingsbury praising them for performing their duty.

Hon, Frank Hatton says in his National Republican that "the state of Indiana made the election of Garfield and Arthur possible. It is one of the great states of the Union. That one of her citizens should be called to fill a vacancy in the cabinet is most fitting. In selecting that citizen, it can truly be said, without disparaging any of the many others of high worth and ability, that the choice of Walter Q. Gresham, is one of the best that could have been made. He is a gentleman of fine ability and irreproachable character, and high in the esteem of the people of his state. He will be a faithful officer and a judicious counselor. Indiana has a long list of worthy men from whom to selet in doing her honor, but none of purer character or more of the qualities needed for the place than the new postmaster general.

In the selection of Judge Gresham of Indiana, for postmaster general President Arthur has once more shown himself wiser than the small army of self-constituted advisers who are so ready to "tell him what to do." Mr. Gresham is a man of the highest character, and those who know him say he is in every way, by business capacity and knowledge, fitted for the place to which the President has called him.

The appointment has been made, evidently, with a clear and honorable regard to the public interests; but for that reason it must also be of advantage to the Republican party. Mr. Gresham will, we do not doubt from all we hear of him, add strength to Mr. Arthur's administration; and it is another proof that the President deserves as he has slowly but constantly won, the public confidence in the rectitude of his purposes, the independence of his judgment and the honorable public spirit which controls his acts.

American Schools in Europe.

A new outlet for American energy is suggested. Mr. William Clark, who served for many years in Italy as American consul, and knows Europe well, recommends American educators to establish young ladies' seminaries on the American plan in the leading capitals of Europe, such as Florence, Paris and Dresden.

He thinks that such schools would attract enough American girls to give the right tone to them, and that they would be eagerly sought by Europeans who do not approve of the ordinary convent school, and desire something larger for their daughters than a private school-room and a domestic governess.

Rev. David Swing, of Chicago, strongly approves the suggestion of the ex-Consul. He says that the young lady of Europe is at present a "kind of infant," and is never allowed the rights of maturity. First, she is in subjection to her parents, who "give her away" in marriage. Then she is the chattel of her husband, and so passes her life in elegant bondage.

A few years' attendance at a thoroughly well-conducted American seminary would perhaps show this "kind of infant" how to honor her parents without parting with her rights as a member of the human family.

Dr. Dix has rendered substantial service to the position of women in American society by his Lenten lectures by clearing the atmosphere. He has admirably set forth the calling of a christian woman, and the relation of education to womanly duty, and has won the sober second thought of the community to his point of view. His opinions are not novel, but sound; his strength lies in his power of statement, in which he has few equals and no superiors. He has done a much-needed work uncommonly well.—Churchman.

General Sherman would hardly be suspected of having anything of the humorous in him, but last week he put the following endorsement on a letter from General Terry asking for the removal of an erratic genius in the quartermaster's department: "This man was appointed for the purpose of developing the latent good that is in him. Let him be subjected to a severe course of discipline. Send him to jail, put a ball and chain on him, shoot him if necessary, but don't discharge him."—Journal Observer.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4, '83.

DEAR POST:—Walking down Pennsylvania avenue to-day, I met Hon. George C. Gorham, the stalwart editor, the liberal southern editor, and the Republican editor of the National Republican, and we asked him who was going to be the Postmaster General. He said that he was not in the habit of answering conundrums, therefore he would not undertake to say. But we thought he spoke like a man who knew more than he was willing to tell. And the result sent forth two hours later proved that the man for Postmaster General had been selected, at the time we were holding the conversation with Mr. G. and he is reported to be a very good man. We wated to see Hatton Postmaster General, but we suppose that the President did not see it in the same light.

Hon Charles J. Folger, secretary, is still sick, and many believe, and some say he will never again go to the treasury department as secretary.

Hon. John C. New, assistant secretary of the treasury, has gone to Indiana for a week. He is a fighting Republican, an able man, one that the party owes very much, and should be promoted, if possible.

Captain E. M. Rosafy is still here and is popular with the boys; he is a leading member of the Grand Army of the Republic. Your article commending him, give his friends great satisfaction. We hope yet to see him promoted according to his merits.

We had very heavy snow last week, but the weather bids fair to be better, and all hope the President will have good weather for his visit south. He leaves to-morrow, and passes through your city, and we hope you will give him a rousing time. His visit ought to be made a pleasant and happy one. He will be gone two weeks, and it is hoped by the many personal and political friends of the President that he will return much improved.

General Fisher, of the third district of North Carolina, is very popular and makes a splendid chief clerk of the Pension office. But few men stand as high in the estimation of both superiors and subordinates, as Gen. Fisher. We all shall rejoice when the new Pension office is finished. It will be a monument to the war, and a living witness of the treatment of the Union soldiers by their government.

I saw Mr. O'Hara, the Republican representative from the second district, in the city a few days ago; he is on the watch to serve his friends and district. We hear that Representative Pool is expected here soon.

The matter of who will be chairman of the national committee to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Marshall Jewell, is being agitated by the friends of the different candidates. It seems to be thought by many that Hon. John C. New will make the very man for the place, and he will be supported by many strong men on the committee if he will have the place.

The question of where we will hold the next national convention is about the only one of any importance for the present national committee to act upon. Some suggest Philadelphia as a very suitable place to hold the convention. New York has some friends, Baltimore is urged by some, but Chicago and Cincinnati seem to be the rival candidates for the honors in that direction. I have no doubt but what Richmond will also be supported by many. St. Louis also has friends, but which place will gain the victory it is impossible at this time to predict.

The new tariff law passed by the last congress by the Republicans, is gaining in public favor every day. The leading Democrats of the country see the mistake they have made and are very much frightened about the consequences on account of their foolish course. It is now certain that the tariff will be the main issue of the next campaign, with a public educational plank declaring in favor of national appropriation for educating the mechanics and laboring men's children, and the Republicans will carry the next presidential election beyond a reasonable doubt. I am delighted to say that the long faces caused by last fall's elections, have entirely disappeared from our Republicans, and all feel sure of a grand victory in 1884. Let old North Carolina wheel into line, and help to elect the next Republican President of the United States. Will write again soon.

GEORGE.

A Needed Reform.

One of the coming reforms in this country is the adoption of a constitutional amendment allowing the Executive to veto separate items of an appropriation bill. New York has set an excellent example to the country by a constitutional provision allowing the governor in such cases to pass judgment upon any item without endangering the fate of the rest. The system is said to be working admirably, and other states as well as the national congress could not do a better thing in the interest of good legislation than to apply it in their respective spheres.—Carolinian.

Gen. Mahone himself could not if he would, and certainly he would not if he could, lead any considerable number of the ex-confederate readjusters of Virginia back into the bourbonized Democratic camp. They are for anything to beat the bourbon fandem.—National Republican.

The Head of the Army.

The changes which time brings to the army, as to all other institutions, are brought forcibly to mind by the approaching retirement of Sherman and the prospective assignment to the command of the army to Sheridan, the last of the triumvirate whose names are so inseparably associated in popular esteem. Gen. Sheridan being comparatively a young man will, if he lives to be retired under the present law, have over eleven years' tenure of the office which was held five years by Grant and will have been held three times as long by Sherman. Before Sherdian's retirement in March, 1895, most of the general officers now on the army list will have reached the retiring age, and the youngest of those now on the list will reach the retiring age within thirteen months of Gen. Sheridan's retirement.

The younger officers are pressing forward to the top, and they may rest assured that their seniors, who have served their country so faithfully and so well, do not begrudge them the honors which age may not permit others to attain: But the army of the future will have reason to congratulate itself that the high military authorities in command since 1864, have so loyally executed their important trusts. Under Generals Sherman, Sheridan, Hancock, McDowell, and the rest, the army has made steady progress during the past years in all that is essential to its efficiency and its physical and moral welfare. Suggestions from the older armies of the world have not been unheeding; the mental training of our soldiers have received due attention; the commissioned officer is held to accountability that his time and his talents are devoted to his charge; the non-commissioned officer has many inducements to remain with the colors and rise in his position, and the private soldier can rise if he wishes; certainly the supreme military authority has given him ample opportunity to do so. And last, but not least, it is but a question of a little time when our army will have acquired the right to the title of an army of marksmen, for the zeal and energy in the direction of the efficient and intelligent use of the rifle are ever on the increase.

We are a progressive race, and though the country is so immersed in civil pursuits, and has sometimes neglected its arms of defence, it has every reason to be proud that, using such means as have been within its reach, the army has never taken a backward step, but has gone steadily forward in a career of honor and integrity.

As to the War Department, it has probaly never had in its history three such hard working men at its head as at the present time. Secretary Lincoln is generally spoken of by the bureau officers, and others around the Department, as possessing an almost unlimited amount of executive ability—quick of preception and equally quick in the dispatch of business. He is a hard worker also, arriving at his office before ten o'clock every morning and remaining at his desk from that time until nearly five o'clock, rising only to see visitors. He very rarely leaves the building between those hours, except for a half an hour's lunch and to attend Cabinet meetings twice a week.

Everybody knows General Sherman's activity. Of late years he does not spend a great deal of his time at his office in the Department. Arriving there in the morning, usually about ten or a little after he remains there examining papers necessitating his endorsement, submitted by the Secretary of War and Adjutant General, until lunch time, when he leaves the office for the day. At his home office at night is where he does most of his hard work. Pass there when you will—that is, any time up to 12 o'clock or 1 o'clock, and sometimes 2—you can perceive through the unscreened basement window Gen. Sherman bending over his low square desk, writing away as though his whole life depended on his finishing his task that night.

Gen. Drum is an untiring worker. The bulk of his business is necessarily done at the War Department, but it is not unusual for him to take a matter home which can only be examined in quiet and spend nearly the whole night upon it, and this night work has unfortunately undermined his health.—Army and Navy Journal.

The Daughter of Napoleon.

While the silver wedding fetes were proceeding at Berlin the daughter of an Emperor died in the most abject poverty near Cologne, and was buried by the communal authorities. She was unmarried, and lived in a wretched room, hung round with the portraits of the Bonapartes. She was a daughter of the first Napoleon, and was born in 1811 in the palace of the Archbishop of Cologne, William III, was her god father, and she received the title of Countess de Falkenburg. She was brought up at Montjoie at the expense of her father, and then placed in a convent in Italy, which she left when about 30 years of age. Some say she was too fond of luxury; others that she was too generous; but at all events she soon got through a considerable property, and returned to Cologne, penniless, at the age of 80. A prominent citizen applied to Napoleon III., but no notice was taken. She, poor thing, dropped her title, and earned a miserable pittance by needle work, supplemented by a small allowance from a rich family living near the Rhine, who claimed lefthanded descent from Jerome Napoleon King of Westphalia.

German wit: "Oh! I tremble so when it lightens, Her Baron," said a notorious flirt. "You have good reason to, my friend, for you heart is made of steel," replied the Baron.

MICELLANEOUS.

Texas—The Penitentiary Lease Investigation—Crooked Developments.

AUSTIN, April 5.—The special committee of the lower branch of the Texas legislature met here yesterday afternoon, to investigate the charge of corruption made by the Texas Siftings against the House in connection with the bill proposing the leasing out of the state convicts for ten years. Joe Walker, politician, testified that one of the lessees had quarters in a private building where poker was played by members of the legislature and friends of the lessees, and witness had been there frequently; whiskey, cigars, wines, etc., were free; sometimes one of the lessees was the host; sometimes a member of the legislature was master of ceremonies. Witness mentioned the names of senators and representatives whom he had seen there. He testified to having offered the proprietors of the Democratic Statesman five hundred dollars if they would cease opposition to the penitentiary lease bill. He did not have five hundred dollars of his own, and was not interested in the lease, but expected the lessees to reimburse him some way.

And this legislature the Star fails to say is Democratic by three to one.

Account of the Dynamite Workers.

LONDON, April 5.—The exciting events of the day have crowded each other so fast that their importance could scarcely be realized until the later hours of the night. Admitted of a complete summing up the happenings included the unearthing in Birmingham of the most important dynamite factory ever discovered, the arrest of four ruin-breeders in London and one in Birmingham, an attempt on the government magazine in Ireland, and the reception of an incendiary letter in London. The excitement over these occurrences was not confined to government officers, but was apparent to the most casual observer in the streets. The prompt and active precautionary steps taken by the government officials were highly commended on all sides. Not only was the postoffice and neighboring government property put under an increased guard, but the royal residence at Winsdor was supplied with a large force of sentinels who were sent thither in a private and unostentatious manner. This was rendered more necessary because it was known to the government officers that late last night, in connection with the discovery of the dynamite factory at Birmingham, a report was received that some conspirators were already on their way to Winsdor from Birmingham.

It is stated with some confidence in official circles that there is reason to believe that while the incendiary and dynamite conspiracy both here and in America will now be laid bare, that the number of arrests will shortly increase.

It is learned that the man first arrested last night, near Fleet street, had engaged rooms on Southampton street, corner of the Strand, giving the name of Ormand, and stating that he was a medica student. Subsequently, he said that his correct name was Norman. The accomplices who carried the box of explosives to his lodgings are believed to be two of the men arrested at Lambeth to day. One of these men had in his pockets and sown up in his clothing a large sum of money, a portion of which was reported as being American. Street rumors made free use of the names of American citizens and connected many Irish-Americans with the plots. One of the Lambeth prisoners had secured lodgings in the name of Wilson. Norman undoubtedly came direct from Birmingham. The place where he was stopping was just over the office where is printed the "Court Circular." The proprietor of that sheet recently received letters containing threats, the origin of which he has now no difficulty in tracing to the prisoner.

The fourth arrest of the day was that of Henry Dalton, who was taken into custody this evening. He came from the United States only two weeks ago. He was found at the office of the American Exchange and made no resistance when informed of the errand of the officers. Dalton was confined in jail at Scotland Yard.

There was less sensation in the House of Commons when those arrests were announced than elsewhere. Sir Wm. Harcourt, Home Secretary, in a brief speech outlined the facts confirming what had up to this time been merely rumor, that Norman had been put under arrest. He added that one hundred and fifty pounds of highly explosive liquids had been found in Norman's quarters, and that it was stored in a skillfully devised rubber covering. He also confirmed the discovery of a dynamite manufactory at Birmingham, and gave the particulars of the affair. He said, further, that a considerable amount of some kind of explosive had been discovered in the rooms of the Lambeth prisoners, and that part of the money on one of these men was in American bank notes.

FRANKFORT, April 5.—The Gazette publishes a telegram from Moscow, which makes the startling announcement that a large mine has been discovered connecting with the Kremlin, where the coronation of the Czar is to take place. The telegram also states that a request has been wired to St. Petersburg for one hundred sappers to be sent at once to Moscow, for the purpose of destroying the mine.

COPENHAGEN, April 5.—The Socialist Congress was treated to an unwelcome surprise from the Danish government. On the fourth day while it was in the midst of its session, the Prefect of Police, after having held a full conference with the King, and secured his approval, sent to Herr Liebnicht, one of the most outspoken delegates, and who is looked upon as the leader in the Congress, and served upon him an order to close the Congress forthwith. Those members of the Congress who came from foreign countries were informed by the Danish authorities that they leave Denmark not later than Tuesday.

MR. HOWE'S SUCCESSOR.

Any Quantity of Available Material in the South.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE POST:—Please grant me space in your influential journal to reply to the strictures of "An American Citizen" upon southern Republicans as a class, and to repel the unjust assertion that there is no southern Republican of sufficient character and standing to take charge of the postal portfolio. While it is generally conceded that the able, affable and sagacious Hatton will be promoted to the vacant portfolio, a position for which he is well known to be qualified; yet I am constrained to assert that should the President desire to confer the appointment upon some gentleman south of the Potomac, he could find material there quite as able, and certainly as honest as is to be found north. Where can gentleman be found of more sterling integrity and higher accomplishments than the peerless General Longstreet, the eloquent John Paul, and the well-known Congressman, E. W. M. Mackey? Either of these gentlemen would reflect honor upon the administration in a cabinet position. But it appears to be popular, even in the north, for southern Republicans to be sneered at and malinged, and "American Citizen" but reflects much of the sentiment of that section. True, we have unprincipled fellows in the south, who, through the aid of federal patronage, foist themselves upon national Republican conventions where their votes are reckoned as merchandise, and are purchased by wealthy Republican statesmen; but the south also contains Republicans as good and true as are to be found anywhere in the north, who are staunch defenders of the Union, and are Republicans upon principle, ready to submit to obloquy and outrage, rather than sustain a bogus Democracy, which they regard as inimical to good and stable government.

ROLLIN H. KIRK.

WASHINGTON, March 30.

It is now a long time since we have seen in the Democratic papers any allusion to their former positive assertions that when Gen. Benjamin F. Butler was in command in New Orleans he was actually a thief, and stole spoons with his own hands. We always knew they wronged the doughty general, but "why don't they do it now?" Their silence shows either that they were then malicious slanderers or that they are now the willing associates and eulogists of a thief. If they should in defense say that they had changed their opinions and that they no longer believed in the spoon story then they would thereby prove themselves wilful slanderers now, for so long as they fail to retract their old accusations they do thereby constantly reaffirm them. They are in this respect in the same attitude toward Butler that Whitelaw Reid is toward Garfield.—National Republican.

THE WILMINGTON POST.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, APRIL 1, 1883.

The postoffice department has put upon the black list of fraudulent concerns the following; Wm. Clinto & Co., and the Commonwealth Puplishing Co , of Bloomington, Ill., the Western Card Co., Normal, Ill., the Union Novelty Co., Mt. Pulaski, Ill., Publishing Co., Atlanta, Ill., the Agents Guide and Guide Publishing Co., Lincoln, Ill. All of the alleged firms and companies are fictitious and are suspicious of the fraudulent cambination which transacted business under the name of C. C. Williams & Co., at Springfield, until it was blacklisted by the postoffice department. The fraud which they were practicing consisted in the advertisement and sale of what purported to be the "New American Watch," but which was in reality a worthless tin sun dial. Postmasters are been directed to discontinue delivery to the above address of money orders or registered packages.

A Hard Witness.

"Do you know the prisoner well?" asked the attorney.

"Never knew him sick," replied the witness.

"No levity," said the lawyer, sternly. "Now, sir, did you ever see the prisoner at the bar?"

"Took many a drink with him at the bar."

"Answer my question, sir," yelled the lawyer. "How long have you known the prisoner?"

"From two feet up to five feet ten inches."

"Will the court make the——"

"I have, Jedge," said the witness, anticipating the lawyer; "I have answered the question. I knowed the prisoner when he was a boy two feet long and a man five feet ten."

"Your Honor——"

The lawyer arose, placed both hands on the table in front of him, spread his legs apart, leaned his body over the table, and said:

"Will you tell the court what you know about the case?"

"That ain't his name," replied the witness.

"What ain't his name?"

"Case."

"Who said it was?"

"You did. You wanted to know what I knew about this case. His name is Smith."

"Your honor," howled the attorney, plucking his beard out by the roots, "will you make this man answer?"

"Witness," said the Judge, "you must answer the questions put to you."

"Land o' Goshen, Jedge, hain't I been doin' it? Let the blamed cuss fire away. I'm already."

"Then said the lawyer, "don't beat about the bush any more. You and the prisoner have been friends?"

"Never," promptly responded the witness.

"What! Wasn't you summoned here as friend?"

"No, sir; I was summoned here as a Presbyterian. Nary one of us was ever Friends. He's an old-line Baptist, without a drop of Quaker in him."

"Stand down," yelled the lawyer, in disgust.

"Hey?"

"Stand down."

"Can't do it. It'l sit down or stand up——"

"Sheriff, remove the man from the box"

Witness retires muttering. "Well, if he ain't the thick-headest cuss I ever laid eyes on."—Utica Observer.

American Enterprise.

No invention of the nineteenth century has worked a greater revolution in household economy or conferred more of a benefit on humanity than the sewing machine.

The first productions were crude and uncouth in the extreme, and it was reserved for American skill and ingenuity to bring forth a machine of any practical value.

In order to appreciate the great advancement which has taken place it is only necessary to compare one of the machines built during the infancy of the invention with one of the latest improved "Light Running New Home."

In the manufacture of this machine old ideas have been discarded, and in accordance with the progressive movement of the age new mechanical principles have been substituted of such inherent and absolute value as cannot fail to commend themselves to the most casual observer.

For all kinds of domestic and manufacturing work the "New Home" is unequaled.

All the really good points contained in other machines have been utilized in its construction. Many new improvements and devices have also been added, the result of which is a machine as nearly perfect as it is possible to make one.

For simplicity, durability, ease of management and capacity for work, the "Light Running New Home" has no rival, and the happy possessor of one may rest assured that he or she has the very best the world affords.

All who send for the Company's new illustrated catalogue, and enclose their advertisement (printed on another page,) will receive a set of advertising novelties of value to card collectors. Their address is, NEW HOME SEWING MACHINE CO., 30 Union Square, New York.

Heroes of the Plains.

In American history there are no more interesting figures than the Heroes of the border. Bold, dashing, adventurous and patriotic; loyal to friends country and to the interests of society, their work was singularly effective in the advancement of western civilization. With seeming recklessness, their efforts were in the interest of law and order, and the people owe them a debt of gratitude they do not forget. Their page in history is as fascinating as it is honorable, and there is a peculiar pleasure in reading the narrative of their wonderful exploits. Among those whose careers were singularly adventurous, are Kit Carson, Wild Bill, Buffalo Bill, Captain Payne, Texas Jack, California Joe, Captain Jack and others, whose achievements have made them justly and widely famous. They have a warm place in the hearts of people, and a prominent one in their admiration. It is appropriate that their achievements should be recorded, and we note with pleasure the forthcoming of a new book from the press of N. D. Thompson & Co., New York and St. Louis, called "The Heroes of the Plains," covering the ground of border history. It is profusely illustrated with 100 engravings and 16 colored lithograph plates. It is sold by subscription through canvassing agents, and presents an opportunity to agents to make money especially inviting. We advertise it in another column.

SALICYLICA is known as a commonsense remedy, because it strikes directly at the cause of Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia, while so many so-called specifics and supposed panacea only to treat locally the effects.

It has been conceded by eminent scientists that outward applications, such as rubbing with oils, ointments, liniments, and scolding lotions will not eradicate these diseases which are the result of the poisoning of the blood with Uric Acid.

SALICYLICA works with marvelous effect on this acid and so removes the disorder. It is now exclusively used by all celebrated physicians of America and Europe. Highest Medical Academy of Paris reports 95 per cent cures in three days.

REMEMBER

that SALICYLICA is a certain cure for Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia. The most intense pains are subdued almost instantly.

FAYETTEVILLE OBSERVER.

On Thursday, February 8th, 1883, the undersigned will revive the publication of the FAYETTEVILLE OBSERVER.

The OBSERVER will be a large 28 column weekly newspaper, and will be mailed to subscribers, postage paid, at $2 per annum, always in advance. It will give the news of the day in as ample form as its space will permit, and both regular and occasional correspondents will contribute letters from the Capital on state politics and affairs.

Democratic in politics, the OBSERVER will labor, first of all, to secure the prosperity of the town of Fayetteville, to develop the vast agricultural resources of its own and the neighboring counties, and to promote all that concerns the welfare of the people of North Carolina.

Opposed to such innovations as the honest ways of our fathers see in the guise of progress, harm society, the OBSERVER will be found in full sympathy with the new things were of the material condition of the south which need development or enlightened experience find to be also good.

As to the rest, it will strive to deserve the reputation of the name it inherits.
